DEDICATION

WE DEDICATE THIS YEAR-BOOK
TO ROY M. PARSONS, WHO,
WITH HIS INSPIRING SMILE,
LEADS US IN OUR SINGING
AROUND THE CAMP-FIRE AND BRINGS US A BETTER APPRE-CIATION AND ENJOYMENT OF MUSIC

FOREWORD

The landmarks of the Gypsy Trail of 1928, recalling memories of hours by the camp-fire and along the highways of school life, are recorded here. Only through the generous co-operation of the manual training department and the Federation of Clubs has the staff been able to produce this record of the year.

Recording-Secretary - - - - - Lenore Bowersox
Corresponding-Secretary - - - - - Dorothy K. Smith
Advisers—G. I. Leonard, Miss Mildred Bachers, Mrs. Oleta Hiller

MELOY

As its name implies, the Federation of Clubs consists of representatives of the different clubs in the high school.

Continuing the custom started last year of an All-Club Day, it sponsored a program which appealed to and covered adequately all the interests of the various members of the student body. Badges bearing the names of the clubs were prepared and distributed to the various groups by the Federation. A special assembly, which was held the third hour in the high school auditorium, was enjoyed by the club members. Later a dance proved a fitting close for the day. The purpose of All-Club Day is to increase the membership of the various organizations of this school and the interest in and understanding of their aims.

The Federation also cooperated with the Polar Bear staff in arranging appointments for the club photographs and in financing the organizations section of the book.

Leadership, scholarship, service, and character are the standards by which the members of the National Honor Society are selected and the ideals which they strive to uphold.

They must be leaders—for they represent the initiative of the senior class. They must be scholars—for they rank among the twenty-five per cent with the highest scholastic rating. They must give service whether on the gridiron, the court, the debating team, the publication staffs, or in clubs. And they must have character; they must be loyal and true—for they represent their school.

Since this is an entirely honorary society, the impressive ceremonies performed in October and March for the initiation of the new members are its only meetings.

Its emblem, being a national one, is as prized among high school members as is that coveted one of the Phi Beta Kappa among college students.

In March the following fourteen members were initiated: Helen Akmakjian, Frances Calvert, Billy K. Clarke, Stephen Crowell, Donald Fisk, Mary Louise Goodman, Kenneth Manuel, Helen Morgan, Margaret Myron, Marguerite Stretch, Carl Stringer, Robert Sumner, Geraldine Weiman, and Hans Wulf.

CAMPBELL

"Always working"—such is the phrase which, according to the faculty adviser, Miss Edna Brown, best describes the Paint Kan. And indeed, it seems the most striking characteristic of this group.

The Senior Carnival of 1928 was certainly indebted to the Paint Kan, as most of the earlier meetings were spent in industriously working on the decorations and drawings which later adorned booths.

At some of the meetings the members enjoy programs and listen to prominent speakers. At others they have sketching parties, which are as intriguing as they sound. However, it is not necessary for members to be especially gifted or talented, the object of the club being the enjoyment of art.

The unique name of this organization is derived from the decorative "Paint Kan" which hangs in Room 112. Fairly running over with colors, it is not merely ornamental, for it is used as a mail-box. Posters, too, in the form of paint pails are often used to advertise the meetings.

Although it is a new club this year, its membership has increased so that it is one of the largest groups in the school.

Striving not only for its own welfare but for that of the school, the Hi-Y, with its membership of about seventy energetic boys, is an organization that needs no introduction. Its efforts have been rewarded by the Studer trophy, won three times and now in permanent possession.

At its meetings, on alternate Tuesdays, general discussions relating to student problems are led by members and by outside speakers. The remaining Tuesdays are spent at the Y. M. C. A. in athletic work.

When there are mass meetings, a Hi-Y member is leading them with spirit. When there are sport schedules the Hi-Y has printed them and distributed them free.

One of the most important enterprises sponsored by the Hi-Y is the Four C's campaign, and in community service the Hi-Y prepares baskets for the less fortunate citizens.

The boys have advanced far toward their purpose: to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community a high standard of Christian character.

Service, sincerity, loyalty, dependability, and good citizenship are stressed by the Girls' Club code. The club is a part of the Y. W. C. A., and its purpose is much the same as that of the parent organization.

This year the club has collaborated even more than before with its kindred organization, the Hi-Y, and together these groups have done many things worthy of note. The occasion of one of the joint meetings was the box social held in December, which gave the members a chance to get together socially; and the fact that it was held in the new Y. M. C. A. made it doubly attractive.

At Thanksgiving the girls made many of those less fortunate than themselves happy with the baskets which they generously filled and distributed. They also took baskets around at Christmas and bought toys for the children of poor families.

The girls earn their money by baked-goods sales, rummage sales, and similar money-making undertakings.

In honor of the maker of America's first flag, the chapter of the Girl Reserves under the supervision of Miss Jane Galatian and Mrs. Genevieve Larzelere has distinguished itself by the appellation, "The Betsy Ross Chapter of the Girl Reserves".

This organization has a membership of eighteen girls, who meet each week to work, play, and gain useful knowledge, while at the same time they help others. The girls' work is somewhat like that of their older sisters in the Girls' Club, of which they are truly junior members. Benevolent activities occupy most of the girls' efforts, but they manage to get in many good times as well.

An innovation in club entertainment is the swimming parties, which they hold frequently in the school swimming pool. Hikes are very happy occasions in the girls' social life, and several of these have been enjoyed this year. Speakers, too, have been procured to entertain and advise the girls at their weekly meetings.

Although the Edith Cavell Chapter of the Girl Reserves, a Junior High Club, has been organized only since December, it is a very active part of the Junior High organizations.

Formerly the girls were known as the Junior Girls' Scientific Society, but this year they decided to reorganize as a Girl Reserve group, much like its sister organization, the Betsy Ross chapter.

The club was named for Edith Cavell, a nurse who was the head of a Belgian training school for nurses and was killed in action during the World War. The Girl Reserve camp on Lake Huron is also named for Miss Cavell, making the club's name the more closely associated with the Girl Reserves. Following the example of the Girls' Club, the girls do much the same work as their older sisters and are guided by the same code.

This organization follows the program sent out by the Young Women's Christian Association.

Cancellation of war debts, prevention of cruelty to animals, tax reduction, marriage and divorce laws, and tariff revision are only a few of the interesting subjects of the bills brought up before the Highland Park Congress, the purpose of which is to further the interests of debating and parliamentary procedure.

Being modeled after the national House of Representatives, this organization consists of members who choose states which they wish to represent. Two bills a year must be filed by each member.

At the annual banquet, which is held each spring, it presents pins to the members of the debating team and an honorary captain's pin to the member who has done the most for the team. Medals are also presented at this time to the winners of the different forensic contests, such as declamation, oratory, and extempore speaking.

Once during each semester a joint meeting is held with the Lister Debating Society of Northwestern High School, the clubs entertaining each other alternately.

To stimulate and promote interest in history is the purpose of the History Club, which holds its meetings every second and fourth Wednesday of the month in Room 119 under the direction of Miss Sadie Palmer and L. E. Shannon.

A scholastic standing of 2.5 and the recommendation of a history teacher are the requirements for membership. However, only the pupils taking European history IV, and United States history I and II are admitted. The reason for this limitation is easily recognized in the membership of fifty—a great increase over the few members who came out seven years ago.

Talks on travel and odd experiences are given by teachers or outsiders. One interesting feature was the talk of Wilfred Smith, a present Junior College student, on China, where he had been living for the past eighteen years.

Aid is given by the members to the history department in arranging for the observance of national holidays, and especially has it been a custom for this club to take charge of the Memorial Day services.

In a time gone by, when exams and units were in the undiscovered future, a significant event occurred; the Highland Park High School Senior Scientific Society—which is the full and formal title of the H₂PS₄—originated.

Ever since its beginning the club has gained in membership, interest, and ability with each succeeding class until now it ranks among the oldest, most honored, and most reliable of the school's organizations.

By the courtesy of the Bondette Liquid Oxygen Company, which not only lent a machine but even sent one of its employees to assist, the members were enabled to demonstrate some of the peculiarities of liquid oxygen to Fordson's science club at Fordson in October. The program was repeated in an open meeting of the H₂PS₄. On March 8 the ninth annual birthday banquet was held in the lunch room. There the sixty members, including both high school and Junior College students, enjoyed themselves at the biggest social event of the club year.

Though the name Prometheus Biology Club may imply a scholarly depth of learning to the uninformed, it means to the favored members, who are both Junior College and high school students, simply "the study of the life that is to be."

At the meetings of this society, held on alternate Tuesday afternoons, the group is entertained by prominent speakers who are interested in some phase of biological work. In this way the members have the advantage of comparing the view points of others with those of the text books.

With an amazing versatility, they discuss subjects ranging from million-year-old fossils to the bluebird. Discussions are not usually confined to the realms of biology, but sometimes venture bravely forth into the dominions of physics and chemistry with an equal success.

An annual feature to which the members look forward is the trip to Ann Arbor with C. E. Altenburg, the adviser. Here they examine many famous specimens of extinct animals in the University's collection.

BALLARD

GIRLS' "H" CLUB

President - - - - - Myrtle Ballard

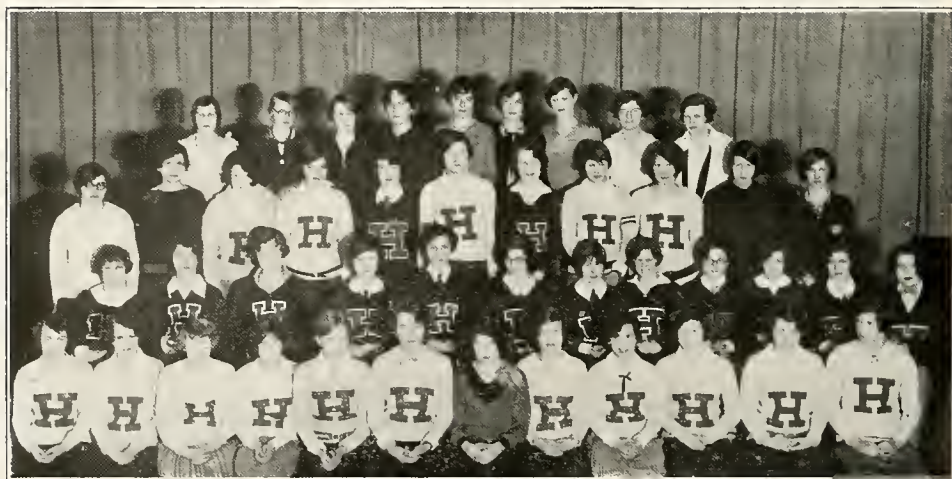

Advisers—Miss Bly Quigley and Mrs. Helen Robinson

Pleasant odors issue from the kitchen as the old and new members of the Girls' "H" Club gather for their annual spring potluck supper. New members take heart and their courage is renewed for the forthcoming ordeal of initiation. However, much to the sorrow of the novices they are not permitted to enjoy the bountiful supper which is served.

This organization is considered a sister club to the Junior High Girls' "H" Club, in that a girl becomes automatically eligible for membership upon receiving an "H" for her work on some athletic team.

Organized in 1920 for the purpose of furthering interest in athletics, it has fulfilled its aim under the direction of Miss Bly Quigley, girls' physical education director, and Mrs. Helen Robinson, swimming coach.

Although the members are so engaged on hockey, swimming, basketball, and other athletic teams that it prevents them from holding regular meetings, it does not interfere with their work in the Carnival or other school activities.

WALLACE

Canes, hats, horns, and other noise-makers which lend to the gay spirit of the annual Senior Carnival are yearly to be found in the gayly decorated booth of the Junior High Girls' "H" Club.

In 1923, eleven girls with Mrs. Martha Hall, swimming coach, who is still serving capably as adviser, met at Palmer Park for the first meeting of the Junior High "H" Club. Now this custom of a picnic meeting is observed each year.

The purpose of the club has been fulfilled in that it has promoted a greater interest in all Junior High athletics.

The members, which number about thirty, are engaged, during the year, on various athletic teams, such as baseball, basketball, and swimming.

A girl becomes automatically eligible for membership upon receiving her letter, and the old saying "once a member always a member" holds true—as many of the members continue to belong even after they join the Senior Girls' "H" Club.

Proudly clutching their passports and with triumph and elation on their expectant faces, the Stray Strollers are off to Europe—in imagination.

Though a casual observer might believe that the members are merely enjoying their weekly luncheon meeting, he would indeed be in error, for they are admiring some picturesque English village or revelling in the beauty and art of gay Paris.

With Mrs. Flo Maholland and Miss Jean MacKay as travelers' guides, the Stray Strollers have this year successfully completed their trip and fulfilled their twofold purpose:—to become more familiar with the customs and people of foreign lands, and to acquaint themselves with the knowledge necessary to a traveler.

Teachers who have already had the experience of going abroad have led these weekly travelogues in the capacity of guides.

After strolling through England, flying through dizzy heights to France, and visting most of the beautiful and historic places of the Old World, the Stray Strollers at last recrossed the ocean and returned home.

GOULSON

When the six girls of last year's Scribbling Glimmer, under Margaret Emde as president, were graduated, they turned over to a group of younger girls one of the oldest and most active organizations in the history of Highland Park High School. Now it is the sole representative of that large, mother organization, the Gleam, begun five years ago. However, in this the energy which was evolved before in the numerous constituent groups is merely concentrated.

On alternate Thursdays at 3:45 in Room 63 these Junior High girls—perhaps the literary lights of tomorrow—gather and read their contributions, which consist of stories, poems, and even serials. Criticisms and advice from the other members and from the adviser, Miss Edith M. Boice, follow. Through this open-minded criticism greater ease and versatility of expression is attained, and steps toward perfection in the literary field are made.

But not all the time is devoted to work. Parties and other festivities are planned entirely for fun. Thus through work and play this Glimmer's hope is always to shed light.

MOMENT MUSICALE

Secretary-Treasurer	- - - - -	Dorothy Fitness
Adviser —Miss Marion Randall

With the steady beat of tom toms, the Moment Musicale Club opens one of its educational programs consisting of Indian music and composers. And in turn everything from Chinese to modern American music is studied during the year by this group which meets on Mondays in the girls' music room.

One meeting in every three is a business session: one is educational, each member contributing an article on the life of some composer or one of his compositions at least once during the year; and one is social.

As the aim of the group is to create a greater interest in music, the members are considering a plan which may be put into practice in the future, whereby some members of the organization may attend musical programs outside of school during the year.

The club was organized in March, 1926, by Thomas LoCicero, Garrett Wright, Edwin Wolff, and Dorothy Bloomgarden. In its two years of existence it has increased surprisingly in numbers and prominence among the clubs of the school.

LANDRAM

To study artistic music, to develop the voice, and to give the girls with unusual ability an opportunity for special study and for public appearance is the purpose of the Junior High Girls' Glee Club, according to Miss Marion Randall, who organized the body in the fall of 1921.

Activities of the year have included singing twice during the convention of the Michigan Education Association; singing the children's choruses at the Christmas concert given by the Michigan State Normal College choir under the direction of Frederick Alexander; caroling at the McGregor Library; presenting the annual spring concert and a May Festival. The club also arouses interest in music which carries its members into the Senior Glee Club and other musical activities. The members now number ninety girls who are chosen from the Junior High students of exceptional vocal ability.

The girls took an active part in the carnival, having charge of the popcorn booth—so decorated as to attract much attention.

DECLAMATION, ORATORY, AND EXTEMPORE SPEAKING

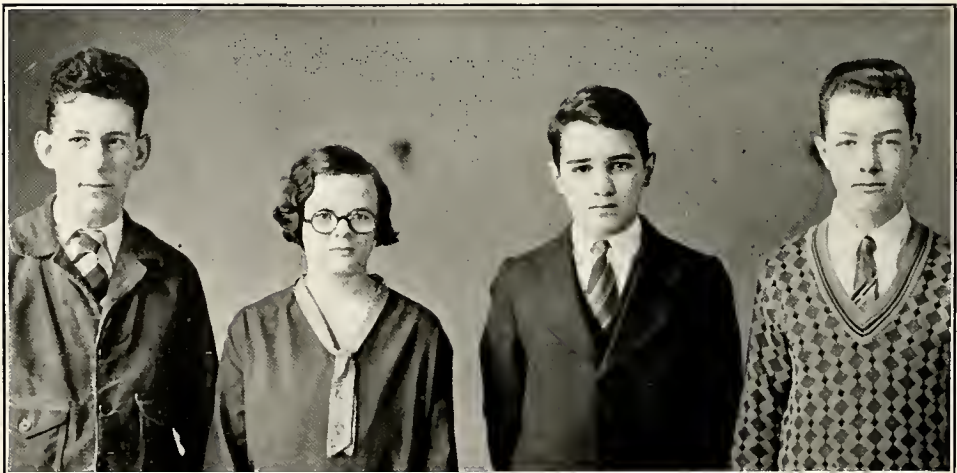

This year Highland Park was represented in a new field of forensic activity—extemporaneous speaking, a contest which is sponsored by the Western State Teachers College of Kalamazoo. To heighten interest in the event Miss Virginia Stearns, of the English department of the Highland Park Junior College, awarded a medal to the person other than a debater who did the best work in this contest.

Geraldine Wieman won first place, but as she was a debater, the medal went to William Mendenhall, who placed second. Vernon Chassee, William Chlopan, and Dore Hills received honorable mention. Twenty-three students entered the contest.

Wilbert Hindman won the oratorical contest with an oration on "Commercialism in the Press," while Vernon Chassee placed second with a speech on "Moral Education and Crime." Ten students entered the contest and a preliminary was held to reduce the number to four—William Hill and Jane Schermerhorn being the other two in the group besides the winners.

Constantine Stavropoulos, giving the declamation, "Spartacus to the Gladiators," won the declamatory contest. LeRoy Walsh was second with "A Message to Garcia." In this event, also, a preliminary contest was held to reduce the number of contestants to four—Velma Andras and Ralph McKinney being the others in the group.

The Detroit News, which sponsors the contests, awards a dictionary to the winners in oratory and declamation, while the Highland Park Congress, the debating club, presents the winners with medals.

DEBATING

"Resolved: That the direct primary system of nominating candidates to public office in the United States should be abolished," was the subject debated upon by the team of 1928.

The inability of Miss Veola Gifford, the former coach, to return necessitated a delay in starting the season. However, when the new coach, Miss Clarice Meek, was procured, she found an eager group of would-be debaters waiting.

Although informal, the meetings held each day accomplished much work. Criticisms of the last debate and helpful suggestions for the next were made.

As divided at the beginning of the season, the affirmative team was made up of David Aptekar, J. Horace Clarke, and Constance Drysdale, and the negative of Wilbert Hindman, Donald Quaife, and Geraldine Wieman. However, these groups alternated, and every member debated on both sides.

In the first encounter Highland Park lost to Port Huron 2 to 1. This decision was also the score by which Highland Park defeated Royal Oak. Mt. Clemens, as the third opponent, easily gained a victory of 3 to 0. Losing to Ferndale 2 to 1, Highland Park finished its regular season. The two teams gave an additional debate before the Highland Park Women's Club. As this was purely to give information to the audience, there was no decision.

At the Congress banquet, gold pins were awarded to the debaters and a green gold captain's pin to Geraldine Wieman. The major awards were the gold and silver Gittins medals, presented to the two best debaters, Wilbert Hindman and Geraldine Wieman, respectively, who were judged on thought, composition, and delivery.

The orchestra's large membership is a result of ten years' steady work on the part of Miss Wallin, for when the organization was started Miss Wallin was often forced to play first violin herself, so small was the group. Now, however, all of the places are filled by capable, hard-working students.

This year the orchestra sent six of its members to the National High School Orchestra which played for the convention of music supervisors in Chicago, Illinois.

With nine honor ranks, ranging from corporal to concert master, the forty-four members of the band have an added incentive to excellent work.

That this organization is one of the most popular in the musical life of the school is shown by the band's many engagements. Besides playing at the mass meetings, football games, and some of the basketball games, the boys were asked to lead the J. L. Hudson Company's parade at Thanksgiving, to play at the luncheon given for the fliers, Schlee and Brock, and to perform before several of Highland Park's organizations such as the Lions Club.

SENIOR HIGH GLEE CLUB

In 1915, shortly after the opening of the second unit of the Highland Park High School, the Senior Glee Club was organized under direction of Roy M. Parsons, head of the music department. This was a merger of the Senior High Girls' Glee, Senior High Boys' Glee and the Senior High Combined Glee.

A special glee has since been organized, also, under Mr. Parsons, for the unusual students in voice training. Solo and special ensemble work are features of the "glee within a glee."

The course of study embodies a voice test and individual ability records. Folk songs, patriotic selections, selections from grand opera, cantatas, and oratorios are carefully studied and presented.

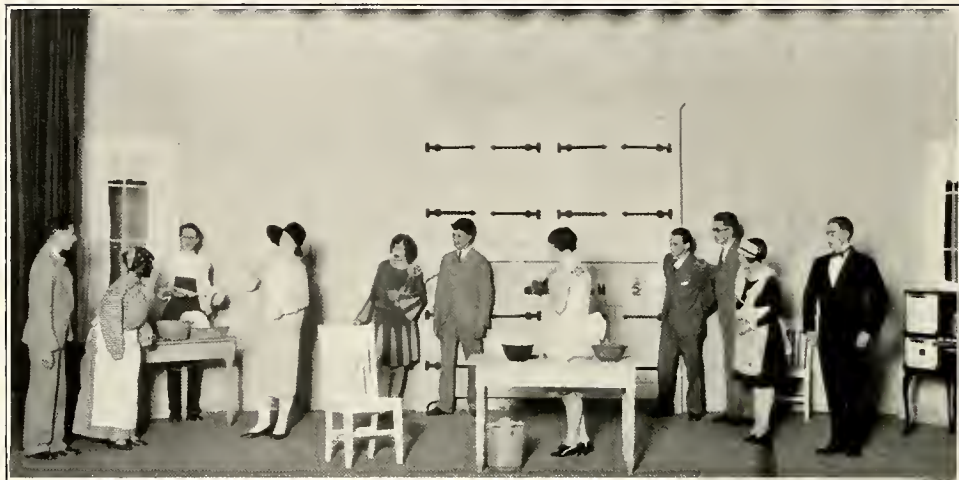

Two large public events given by the glees are the Christmas pageant and the opera. The Christmas pageant is given free of charge to show the appreciation of the Glee Club for the support given by the public to the other musical performances of the year. New features of the 1927 pageant were having the boys' choir seated on the stage, set as the interior of a church, with an echo choir seated in the balcony. A special string ensemble, under the direction of Miss Maraquita Wallin, played several numbers.

Creditable performances of Jakabowski's opera "The Two Vagabonds" were added this year to the list of former successes, among which are "Patience," "Gondoliers," "Martha," "Robin Hood," and "H. M. S. Pinafore."

The singers also take a prominent part on the commencement program and yearly enter in State Music contest. This year they also took part in a pageant given at the First Presbyterian church at Christmas time.

THE SPECTATOR

From its launching in September into the dangers and hopes of the subscription campaign until the announcing of the new staff at the annual banquet in June, the good plane Spectator had for its goal service to the school.

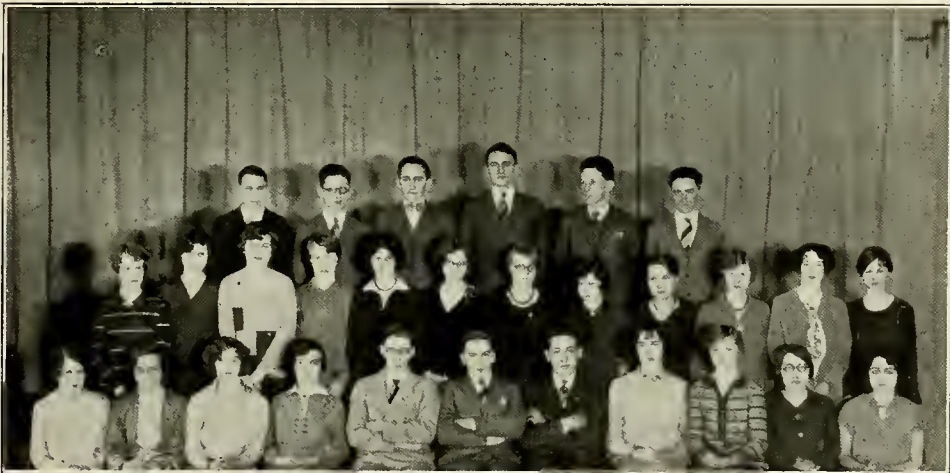

With the separation of the Junior and Senior Highs, the Spectator became entirely a Senior High publication. The selling of subscriptions, an innovation at the beginning of the year, necessitated careful figuring, but proved a sound financial venture.

The addition to the print shop of new mechanical conveniences such as a linotype machine and a cylinder press made it possible for the 1927-28 Spectator to be printed entirely in the school.

The headquarters of an intricate organization, the Spectator office is one of the busiest places in the school. Here capable editors patiently advise worried reporters. Copy-readers change leads and write headlines with remarkable resourcefulness. The Chatterbox editor forever seeks items. Proofreaders watch carefully for typographical errors, and typists puzzle over illegible writing.

Try-outs longingly measure "strings" and dream of the time when they will total fifty inches. The circulation staff folds papers on Wednesday night and delivers them the next morning at record. The advertising staff works hard for "bigger, better, and more" advertising inches.

The Spectator is a member of the Central Interscholastic and Michigan Interscholastic Press Associations and is proud of several honor ratings received from these organizations.

THE POLAR BEAR

Four loyal Polar Bear mascots, three of whom represented the senior high study halls, while the other stood for the faculty, added color and interest to the sales campaign of this year's annual. Striving to reach their goal, a pot of honey, and spurred on by the subscriptions that poured from each group to encourage its favorite, the furry contestants struggled forward. The victor from the junior assembly room O, was trailed closely by the bear of Room B; that of Room M was less successful but not less enthusiastic.

A new method of selecting the editors of the staff was instituted this year. Applications were sent in by students for the positions, and those with the best recommendations, marks, and experience were chosen.

Through the cooperation of the Federation of Clubs, each organization whose picture appeared in the book agreed to help bear the cost of its page by taxing its members a small sum. This gave welcome aid to the Polar Bear in meeting its financial problem.

The annual staff has enjoyed social, as well as journalistic activities. The Christmas season was celebrated by an informal banquet, at which the time-honored Santa Claus, a Christmas tree, and gifts accompanied by verse furnished a very pleasant evening.

A Black Friday Prom on January 13 offered entertainment to the combined Spectator and Polar Bear staffs, and on April 13 the staffs again joined in a Publications Party.

The customary June banquet was held in honor of the successful publication of this annual.

ATHLETIC BOARD OF CONTROL

Composed of seven members, the Athletic Board of Control is an important factor in the high school sports. It is made up of the assistant superintendent, the principal, the heads of the girls' and boys' physical education departments, a member of the board of education, and two students.

The Highland Park teams are now included in the Detroit Athletic League, which arranges all schedules and takes care of various eligibility problems, so the main responsibility of the board for several years has been the awarding of letters. It is necessary that the emblems be given only to those who deserve them, and this is an important task.

At the conclusion of the winter sports program, the board sponsored a meeting of the senior high school students at which the various awards were given out. As three city championships, a state title, and a national championship were taken by the Polar Bear teams during the season, the meeting was very peppy and exciting; a table laden with cups, plaques and different trophies summed up the many successes.

Since its origin, the organization has had no changes in its membership excepting in the representatives of the student body. The two representatives, one girl and one boy, are chosen by a vote of the entire school each year.

The football turn-out at the beginning of the season was one of the best that Highland Park has ever had. Having lost very few of last year's men, Coach Horning had several veterans to make a backbone for this year's team.

Next season's team will miss Klann, Sumner, Rowe, Belknap, Fisk, W. Demaree, Johnston, Hallas, Miller, Harbison, and Glazer. To partly offset that loss it will have the able leadership of Captain-elect Palmaroli and the equally good teamwork of some of the men who gained experience from this season's games.

Much of the credit for the team's good showing was due to Captain Klann and Captain-elect Palmaroli, both of whom were picked for the visionary all-city eleven and honored by state team creators.

Captain Williams

After opening the season with five consecutive victories, Highland Park's basketball team dropped its first two league games to Redford and Southwestern. The Polar courtment won their next four games by one-sided scores, but they met defeat at the hands of Mt. Clemens in a very close contest.

In the final fray Northwestern conquered the Dyermen in a fast and interesting game.

This was a fairly successful season, especially since the team played under a new city league ruling which prohibited the coaches from handling their teams during the games and put the responsibility on the captain.

Coach Dyer lessened the responsibility on the shoulders of Captain Carl Williams, however, by putting a new team on the floor for the second half in most of the games.

With seven veterans back and with several other experienced players, the prospects for a winning combination in varsity baseball seemed rather bright, especially in view of the fact that last year's team made a good showing, finishing high up in the league.

Short stop is the only position in the infield that is not being played by a veteran. In spite of this, the team is not handicapped, as King, the short stop, has rounded into form in the field as well as at bat.

Kane, who played short last year, has turned his ability to catching and has made a very good receiver.

The bulk of this year's squad was raw material, but from this raw material Coach Ruggles developed a very creditable track team.

With the ever-present example set by the veterans of last year's team, the novices were constantly goaded and inspired to greater effort. Several of the track candidates were cross countrymen and not altogether inexperienced for the longer events of an indoor track meet.

Harbison, Luzmoor, Skeen, and Mosely, all old stars, kept up the good work begun in former years. Wineman's star, which rose last year with such promise, held its place with steady brilliancy in the firmament of Highland Park track men. Coulter, a new man, was the Polars' only pole-vault artist.

Despite their excellent spirit and work, the Polar entrants took just one place in the city meet. That was taken by Harwood in the low hurdles.

Winning four major championships in one season was the remarkable achievement of the Highland Park swimming team during the past year.

Six state, two national, and two city records are held by members of the Polar aquatic team, which did not lose a single meet in its triumphal season.

The four titles captured by this nationally famous team are the city, state, mid-west, and national championships which were won by overwhelming majorities.

Prospects are bright, too, for next year, as only two swimmers, Howard Chase and Richard Meigs, are lost to the team by graduation.

Much of the credit for this remarkable showing is due to Coach Withey, who with untiring effort developed the best balanced swimming team in national high school aquatic circles.

TOURNAMENT

March 6..... Eastern 15 10

Highland Park's reserve basketball team is deserving of much credit for bringing a city title to the Polar school. In winning the titular affair, the Reserves defeated Eastern's reserve team by a 15 to 10 score.

In the scheduled games Highland Park won seven out of nine contests, dropping a hard fought game to Cass Tech and another to Southwestern.

This was a remarkable showing, especially in view of the fact that, as a result of a new ruling, the coaches were not allowed to sit on the bench or make substitutions.

Many good players were developed for next year's varsity team. Among the most outstanding players were Demeter, Halvery, Langs, Wallace, and McLean.

Top Row—Cogswell, Reinbolt, Baker, McLean, Halvery.

FOUL SHOOTING

Five men brought another championship to Highland Park by winning the Greater Detroit High School League foul shooting contest with a man average of $17\frac{1}{2}$ fouls out of a possible 25.

Cogswell, a member of the reserve basketball team, turned in the highest score for the Polars and the third highest in the city, shooting 22 fouls. As a result of this he is rated as the third best foul shooter in Detroit high schools.

The other members of the team all played on the varsity court team this year. Williams scored 19, Pierce 17, Kane 16, and Wamsley 15.

ALL CITY SELECTIONS

Two men from Highland Park were named on the first team of the all-city football selections last fall. Captain William Klann, Polar tackle, was picked for that position on the mythical eleven. The other Blue and White player chosen was Captain-elect Peter Palmaroli who was selected as full-back.

Several other Polar grid-iron warriors were named on the second and third teams or given honorable mention. Although none of Coach Horning's players were selected on the all-state eleven, several received honorable mention.

In basketball Highland Park also had some outstanding players who were given places on the second and third teams in the mythical selections or honorable mention.

RESERVE FOOTBALL

Losing only one game, the reserve football team had a successful season. In a schedule of five games with reserve teams of other Detroit schools, Highland Park won two, tied two, and lost one.

As a result of a new rule, all players who did not participate in the varsity game on Saturday were eligible for play in the reserve game on the following Monday.

In this way the reserve team was considerably strengthened by having the varsity substitutes eligible for play.

HOCKEY

Hockey, a new sport at Highland Park, made its debut upon the Polar program of winter athletics this year.

A large number of aspirants turned out to try their skill at the new sport.

Owing to an unusually mild and irregular winter, the ability and skill of the team was not given an absolutely just trial.

Learning and profiting from their mistakes was one of the commendable qualities of the team, as was shown in the first two games. After losing their first game because of a desire on the part of some of the members of the team to star, the boys worked up some strong team plays and won their two remaining games.

CROSS COUNTRY

From a schedule of five meets, exclusive of city and state meets, the '27 cross country team emerged with a percentage of .576. Four of the five were triangular meets.

The team this year was composed of new men, with the exception of one member. The one veteran was Captain Sam Skeen, who has had two years' experience in both indoor and outdoor track, as well as cross country.

Cross country is only in its third year at Highland Park, and previously the teams have been forced to train on the streets. The improvement this year may be attributed in a large measure to the acquisition of Ives Field.

GOLF

With but one new man, Donald Fisk, chosen from the ranks of the candidates, Coach Mead's golfers should have a most successful season.

The five veterans who returned are Captain Chlopan, Duncan, Melikian, Hurd, and Wilder. In order to have some experienced players on the team next year, Coach Mead carried Walter Chlopan and Donald Dierkes with the team.

Northwestern was encountered on May 1, and Redford on May 15. The Highland Park-Redford match was one of the feature events in scholastic golf this spring, as these two schools have the strongest teams in Michigan.

TENNIS

Captain Bolton, Nicholas, Savich, and Meacham were the veterans to return to this year's tennis team, but with the aid of the first class material that responded to the call for candidates a very good team should result.

Besides the three veterans, the team is comprised of Meloy, Renton, Brand, and Ford.

Coach Larzelere plans to select his team anew for each match, a plan which has been followed ever since he has had charge of the Polar team, and under which Highland Park has come very close to the city championship for the last four years. Last year the Bears finished in second place.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

Last fall ushered in a new era in Highland Park sports, as it marked the first time that intramural football had ever been played in the school. Much enthusiasm was aroused, and over sixty boys took part in the games.

Many players were developed for the varsity team by being on the intramural teams.

An intramural tennis tournament was also started. The contestants being divided into two groups, those in Senior High in Class A and those in Junior High in Class B.

Golf and horseshoe tournaments were arranged, but because of the unfavorable weather they were unable to get under way.

In the gym classes a basketball tournament was played among teams picked from members of the classes.

A baseball tournament was staged this spring.

Baseball, horseshoes, track, and golf are the intramural activities engaged in this spring. In baseball, both soft and hard ball leagues were organized in Rooms J and K.

Students in both Senior and Junior High participated in the horseshoe tournaments, which were held during the noon hour on the play ground.

Boys who lacked baseball seasoning were able to gain a great deal of experience by playing on the class teams.

JUNIOR HIGH SOCCER

Finishing the season in second place in the west side division of the city league was the feat accomplished by Coach Lappeus's soccer team.

Eight veterans returned, and with these men as a nucleus Coach Lappeus formed the best soccer team that Junior High has ever known. Captain Strackham, Roberts, Zeiger, Ritz, Szokola, Hill, and Gamble were the outstanding players on the team.

At the beginning of the season fifty candidates turned out for the team, and from this number thirty were selected for the squad.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL

With only one veteran cageman back to serve as a nucleus for his basketball team, Coach Lappeus worked up a strong team during the first part of the season, but the men on this team became ineligible at the end of the semester, since they entered the Senior High School at this time. This quintet played three, and won three games.

Forthy Candidates heeded the call for the remainder of the season, and the second-semester team tied for first place on the west side.

In the championship game the Highland Parkers played Munger, whom they had already defeated, but the Munger team outscored the Polars by one point.

JUNIOR HIGH SWIMMING

Another champion swimming team was developed at Highland Park this year, under the tutelage of Coach Miller. The Junior High natators captured the city title after winning eight dual meets.

In the medley relay, the 50 yard free style, and the 50 yard breast stroke new records were established by the Polars. The Bears now hold five out of the eight city records.

The team is now permanently in possession of the cup, having won it for the third time.

JUNIOR HIGH BASEBALL

One hundred and thirty candidates for Junior High baseball is the largest turnout for an athletic team in the history of this school. Only four veterans were in the ranks of the aspirants.

Coach Lappeus expected to build a good team around the letter men as the main cogs in his machine.

A veteran battery, Hampton and Mantz, returned to bear the brunt of the burden. The keystone sack is well covered, with Gelmine back for his third year. Bordoni, outfielder, will strengthen the outer garden.

Captain Weiss

Losing but one game, and that to Northwestern, the girls' hockey team placed second in the West-side League. Redford was the only other team which scored against the Polar Bears throughout the season.

The team was composed of eight letter-wearers and four new girls. Nine girls will be lost by graduation; but Captain-elect Betty Scott, Muriel Marriott, Louise Martin, and Kathleen Steele, speedy forwards, Avis Adams, a dependable half-back, and many of the substitutes will return next year.

Fast, steady team-work and excellent passing were prevalent. Only four goals were scored against the Polar Bears, Northwestern and Redford each being responsible for two.

Captain Sylvia Weiss, center-half, and Charlene Eastman, full-back, were the outstanding players of the season; both played accurate games.

*Championship games.

Under the tutelage of Miss Bly Quigley, the girls' basketball squad was molded into fine shape for the city championship game. The deciding combat, played with Northwestern, proved to be the best game of the season. The teams were evenly matched, and the Polar Bear girls had a hard time in wrenching the game from their opponents' hands.

Two girls were chosen for the Detroit Times all-city team. They were Captain Lucille Perkins, the fastest player in the league, and Betty Scott, forward. Much of the team's success was due to the guards, Virginia Bachrach, and Rachel Fleming, who kept their adversaries from scoring high.

Returning next year are three out of seven letter wearers, Frances Anderson, Louise Martin, and Betty Scott, besides a large squad of promising players.

Captain Berridge

By winning all its dual meets and placing first in the city meet, the girls' swimming team completed the most successful season in the history of the school.

The Polar lassies returned victorious from the first meet with Northwestern. In the next two weeks College High and Central were easily defeated by the strong Polar team. Finally Northern was overcome in the last dual meet.

In the city meet the girls captured first place and seven gold, two silver, and four bronze medals. Records were broken in the medley relay by Jean Berridge, Effie Ferrier, and Catherine Boylan; in the 50-yard back stroke by Jean Berridge; in the 50-yard breast stroke by Effie Ferrier; and in disrobing by Dorothy Hall. Virginia King, an excellent breast stroke swimmer, will lead the 1928 team.

Captain Martin

With seven players out of nine available, prospects for this year's girls' tennis team looked very bright at the beginning of the season. Last year's team took city championship in both the singles and doubles and while the loss of Captain May Moffit and Mary Wiseman was felt, there was good material from last year's squad.

Captain Ruth Martin and Louise Martin played in the first and second singles, respectively, while Virginia Bachrach, Ruth Cummings, Elizabeth Gazdag, Dorothy Greene, and Sylvia Weiss had had good experience in playing doubles. This was the third year for Virginia, Ruth Cummings, Elizabeth and Ruth Martin.

Practice began at the Ford Recreation courts as soon as the ground was ready. The season opened on April 30, when the racqueteers met College High School.

RED CROSS LIFE SAVING

Since many deaths result every year from drowning, the American Red Cross Association has organized the Red Cross Life Saving Corps. To earn a membership a person must pass a test prescribed by the Association. Tests are given by schools, camps, and other similar groups.

At Highland Park about forty students, more than at any other school, were given membership last year. Classes are organized in the winter to practice disrobing, recovery of objects, carries, breaking of holds, and artificial respiration, the things required in the examination. Mrs. Helen Robinson, girls' swimming coach, has charge of the work this year.

Members of the corps are encouraged to prevent accidents by teaching beginners to swim and advising simple precautions to take while swimming. Last summer two high school girls who had earned membership here tried to revive a baby although their efforts were of no avail. However, the death rate from drowning has been decreased in the last few years partly through the efforts of the Red Cross Association.

This year a senior life saving class was conducted by a member of Room O, Elizabeth Dickinson. Those who passed the test in the first group were Louise Bachrach, Freida Brief, Ruth Callender, Alice Dahlman, Enid Downey, Eileen Parks, Betty Parks, and Josephine Stromer.

CLASS BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

Mariott, Martin, McMasters, Bachrach, Scott, Church, Henricson

Last season's Junior High championship team has again won a crown. This year as sophomores, the girls won all the inter-class games they played. Their title was easily won, because most of the eleventh and twelfth grade stars had already earned their letters and were thus ineligible for inter-class competition.

Betty Scott and Louise Martin, as members of the team, piled up a huge score against their opponents.

THREE LETTER GIRLS

Perkins, L. Martin, Steele, R. Martin, Bachrach

Few girls are able to earn more than one athletic award, but Virginia Bachrach, Louise Martin, Ruth Martin, Lucille Perkins, and Kathleen Steele have won three each.

All of these athletes have earned their awards in tennis, hockey and basketball, with the exception of Kathleen, who played on the championship golf team, and Lucille, who is a track star.

JUNIOR HIGH FIELDBALL

Fieldball, although a new sport for the Highland Park Junior High school girls, was satisfactory in that the last few games showed a marked improvement over that of the earlier matches. Collette Poston proved to be the star of the season, but all the others were enthusiastic players.

As the game is a fall sport, and there is no other recreation for the Junior High girls at that season, the turn-out for the team was especially large.

Because there are no veterans returning next season, a complete new team will have to be made.

JUNIOR HIGH SWIMMING

City championship! That is the goal obtained by this year's Junior High girls' swimming team. In the city meet Ruth Townsend took a gold medal in the 25-yard back stroke and Helen Snyder received one for the 25-yard breast stroke. The Polar Bears also took five second, two third, and two fourth places.

Maurene Cross was the high-point scorer of the season, while Marjorie Wallace was second. The team was led to victory in each dual meet by Virginia Langley, a very capable captain.

ALL CITY SELECTIONS

This year's junior high basketball team was composed entirely of new material. Lack of height was the team's greatest drawback, but altogether three games were won, two tied, and two lost.

The team was handicapped by the loss of Mary Kathryn Howell, an excellent side-center, who became a senior high student after the beginning of the second semester.

The girls showed good team-work throughout the season, and their passing was of high calibre. Cooperation and good sportsmanship helped to redeem a somewhat disappointing season.

JUNIOR HIGH BASEBALL

With five returning from last year's city championship team, the outlook seemed bright at the beginning of the season. The veterans are Bessie Hewitt, Catherine Falck, Edna Wallis, Dorothy McCartney, and Helen Szwed.

Seven games were played with other Detroit intermediate schools, and the team hoped to be able to overcome all these opponents with the aid of Mrs. Martha Hall's vigorous coaching.

Nordstrum, the first nine to be met, was defeated last year in one of the best-played games of the season, and promised to be a worthy foe.

Be Peppy! Lead the Crowd!

Strum a snappy tune on a banjo or a "uke" . . . and everybody's happy . . . Play the latest "blues" on the saxophone . . . and the crowd gathers 'round. Play any peppy instrument . . . and you're sure to be a leader.

Say fellows, it's great to play! Why not learn how? You'll get a "kick" out of the first true notes you sound—and soon you will be entertaining your friends. It's a wonderful way to earn your way through college, too.

Select Your Favorite Instrument at Hudson's Music Store

with his small tools and his piece of box wood spent days, yea sometimes weeks, in the production of a single illustration requiring much skill and patience.

are made photo mechanically with the use of modern photographic apparatus and the aid of chemistry. But it depends just as much upon the skill of the artisans as in the days of old.

Your illustrations—be it a school book or a catalog, if intrusted to us, will be given careful attention so that the finished printed page may truly convey the illustration you wish to produce.

Milk builds sturdy bodies, ruddy with the glow of health. It fosters growth. It builds red blood, strong bones, lusty sinews. It gives stamina for play and for the serious tasks of school days. It gives vitality, superb resistance to disease, mental and physical alertness.

There is nothing that can take the place of milk. Nothing ever has. Nothing ever will.
